Summary of our Action Project

'Celebrating Human Rights Activists'

Our class divided into seven committees to do all the work. We decided that we would find out more about Irish human rights activists because we liked the stories in Class 6. They made us think that ordinary people like us can make a difference to the lives of a lot of people.

We created notice boards on five local human rights activists to put up in our canteen for the 10th of December, which is International Human Rights Day and the day the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was signed back in 1948. We are also going to host a school community ceremony on the 10th of December so that everyone has the opportunity to pay their tribute to our local activists.

We have invited in our local human rights activists who are ordinary people in our local community who have made difference in our town and worldwide to celebrate their dedication to achieving human rights for others.
